

Building Success: You & AIA

A resource guide for architecture students.

Introduction

The American Institute of Architects is invested in the next generation and want to support students and emerging professionals through every stage of professional development. This document includes information and resources to help you advance your academic and professional career.

Student opportunities

Kick-start your career

1. Scholarships & awards

- The Architects Foundation provides scholarship funding to both individual students and directly to universities through nine different programs.
- The Medal for Academic Excellence is awarded annually to the top graduating student in each NAAB accredited program.
- In the AIA/AIAS CRIT Scholar research program, eight recipients receive $1,000 each toward research projects and are matched with a mentor. Applications open in the Fall of 2023 with a December deadline.

2. Competitions

- AIA is a sponsor of the U.S. Department of Energy Solar Decathlon[®], a collegiate competition that has inspired thousands of students worldwide to enter the clean energy workforce since its inception in 2002.
- The COTE Top Ten for Students is a competition that challenges students, working individually or in teams, to submit projects that use a thoroughly integrated approach to architecture, natural systems, and technology to provide architectural solutions that protect and enhance the environment. Winning students and their faculty sponsors will receive cash prizes totaling $13,500. Registration deadline is April 5, 2023 and submissions are due June 7, 2023.

3. Internships

- AIA offers an eight-week summer internship program focused on AIA's national headquarters renewal. In 2023 we hope to host one Architecture student from each of the seven Historically Black Colleges and Universities with NAAB-accredited architecture programs. Watch an Instagram reel about the interns here.

4. Professional development & networking

- The AIA Conference on Architecture & Design is the architecture and design event of the year. Students may take advantage of the $25 registration rate. This year, it is in San Francisco June 7-10, 2023.
- AIA and the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture (ACSA) jointly host an annual Intersections Research Conference dedicated to strengthening the intersection between academia and design practice.
